

Collaboration Agreement

A collaboration agreement is a tool for producing effective group processes. You should all present your expectations to the group work and to each other. While doing so, you can discuss your different wishes and decide how you will work as a group. The collaboration agreement should document all your decisions.

The collaboration agreement is relevant because it will help you insure a good group process. A good group process determines a good individual learning process. You grow and learn along with other students. You learn to cooperate and you get insights into your own and others' strengths and weaknesses. You get continuous sparring and discussions with other students. You can learn from people from other backgrounds than your own. You will have a small group of people to relate to.

In order to gain an overview of what kind of competences and values your present group possess, all group members are going to fill out the table below as a foundation for your collaboration agreement.

Group's ambition	Are you going to "build a castle" – or are you going to just go for the essentials and "build a shed"? Do you want to be challenged and learn maximum – or minimum? :)	We are going to try to build a castle, but mainly focus on learning and getting the project done. We want to be challenged and learn as much as we can.
Group's strategy	How will the group ensure that each member develops the desired skills; are you going to meet a lot, read a lot, share knowledge a lot, teach each other etc.	Share knowledge with each other, teach each other.
Work hours	How many hours of daily group work? How many hours of daily individual work after school?	3 hours at school and 3 hours individual work.
How are you going to make decisions in the group?	Are you going to vote and/or use other "democratic tools"? How much are you aiming for unity and ready to discuss every issue?	We are going to discuss every issue and vote on every idea.
What problems are likely to arise in the group process?	Have you any past knowledge of potential "working together issues". At which point will you seek advice from a teacher?	Differences in opinions, ideas and work ethic. We are going to solve them in the group and hopefully won't need the help of a teacher.
How will the group plan the daily work and completion of the required tasks?	Daily meetings Be punctual Daily updating of plan Other	Through social media, group chat and at school with the help of Kanban chart.
How and when will you punish violation of the group's norms?	How often are you going to violate the rules in order to get punished? What types of punishment will you use; baking a cake, split up the group, expelling a team member? If you are going to expel a team member, how will you do it?	N/A
Anything else to add?	Like for instance your battlecry!  If you add battlecry, shout it out loud!	WHY DO WE USE CSS GRIDS????
